Period for Reply
A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.  - Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.  - If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.  - If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.  - Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).  Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly 1. indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: Method for Assembling Sheets in a Bound Collection.

Information Disclosure Statement

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure 2. statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112: The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for 4. failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Regarding claims, the phrase "sheet-like" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "-like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Horowitz discloses a method for assembling a plurality of sheet-like articles that includes

6. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Horowitz.

providing on at least one surface of the articles (48) to be bound an adhesive strip (90) along an inner edge thereof (See Fig. 4); providing a plurality of spaced alignment openings (70) adjacent the inner edge (See Fig. 4); placing one at a time the articles on a guide member that includes a plurality of aligning pins (32, 34), projecting upwardly from a base (30), located and spaced in correspondence with the location and spacing of the alignment openings (See Fig. 1), the placing step including passing said openings in the article over aligning elements (see col. 4, line 26), whereby the adhesive strip of the article arranged on the guide member contacts and adheres to the inner edge of an underlying article previously arranged on said guide member; and repeating for additional sheet-like articles that are to be bound (see col. 4, lines 34-40), thereby to form a bound collection of articles (see col. 4, line 39).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horowitz in view of Pacifici. Horowitz discloses all the limitations of the claims, but it does not disclose removing a protective strip previously removably secured to the sheet-like article over the adhesive strip. However, Pacifici discloses a method of assembling a plurality of sheet-like articles that includes removing a protective strip (23) previously removably secured to the sheet-like article over the adhesive strip for the purpose of protecting the adhesive strip prior to binding and eliminating the protection of the adhesive strip during binding (see col. 4, lines 45-51). It would have been obvious for a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to modify Horowtz by removing a protective strip previously removably secured to the sheet-like article over the adhesive strip, as disclosed by Pacifici, for the purpose of protecting the adhesive strip prior to binding and eliminating the protection of the adhesive strip during binding.

9. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horowitz in view of Maffey. Horowitz discloses all the limitations of the claims, but it does not disclose that the alignment openings are formed through the adhesive strip. However, Maffey discloses a method of assembling a plurality of sheet-like articles in which alignment openings are formed through the adhesive strip for the purpose of reinforcing the punched edge of the sheet. It would have been obvious for a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to modify Horowitz by having the alignment openings formed through the adhesive strip, as disclosed by Maffey, for the purpose of reinforcing the punched edge of the sheet.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
